Description: From the city of Piacenza, in the heart of the Emilia Romagna region, a territory renowned for salumi excellence, the Piacentini DOP dry cured meats are made according to traditions that respect the authentic and genuine artisan techniques of production.The DOP designation is attributed by the European Community only to the products whose characteristics intrinsically depend on the territory where they are produced. Description:

Traditionally the lean pork meat and the selected pork fat were cut separately with a knife by hand. Today, specific modern machinery allows producers to replicate the same cutting style. The lean meat is still cut on its own and the fat is also cut separately into larger cubes than a regular grinder would normally mince. The two ingredients are then mixed together slowly and seasoned with salt, pepper and white wine until the mixture binds nicely. The mixture of lean meat is then stuffed into natural hog casings and tied with natural cord to be hung to dry for one week then passed on to the curing room for a minimum of 60 days.
